The screenshot displays a user interface for product pairing. On the left, there are filter sections for 'Width' and 'Height'. Under 'Width', there is an unchecked checkbox for 'Any Value' and a checked checkbox for '12' with a count of '(1)'. The 'Height' section is currently collapsed. The main content area features a red 'DO NOT USE' warning banner at the top, followed by a 'Pairing 2' product card. The card includes a 'Seller: OEM' label, an 'ASSESSED' status badge, a crossed-out price of ₹ 1,800.00, and a current price of ₹ 600.00 with a '67% OFF' badge. An orange 'CHOOSE THIS ITEM' button is positioned at the bottom of the card. Below the product card, the text 'Showing 1 Results in Q2 migration testing' is visible.

CASE 3 - Pairing Through GeM catalogue ID in Q2

In Q2 scenario pairing can be done through GeM catalogue ID

OEM creates a catalogue and provides the authorization code to reseller. After the authorization code is verified by reseller from his panel, seller can search the category and enter GeM catalog id.
