IMPORT EXPORT CODE

INTRODUCTION:

Import Export Code (also known as IEC) is a 10 digit identification number that is issued by the DGFT (Director General of Foreign Trade), Department of Commerce, Government of India. It is also known as Importer Exporter Code. It is mandatory for companies and businesses to obtain this code to start a business that deals with import and export in the Indian Territory. It is not possible to deal with export or import business without this code.

An individual or a company who wants to do international business can get an IEC. Individuals can use either the name of their company or their name directly to apply for IEC.

IE Code registration is permanent registration which is valid for a lifetime. Hence, there will be no hassles for updating, filing and renewal of IE Code registration. It is valid until the business exists or the registration is revoked or surrendered. Further, unlike tax registrations like GST registration or PF registration, the importer or exporter does not require to file any filings or follow any other compliance requirement like annual filing.

As IE code registration is one-time and requires no additional compliance, it is recommended for all companies and LLPs to obtain IE code after incorporation.

Instances where Import Export Code is Mandatory:

- Custom authorities need it to clear shipments during imports.
- The bank needs it to transfer the money when imports are made.
- Similarly, during export of shipments, the IEC is required.
- When exporter is supposed to receive money in foreign currency, IEC code is required to transfer the money to his account directly

Exemption from Import Export Code:

An Import Export Code is required for import of any type of goods by a business. However, the following category of persons are exempted from obtaining an IE Code:

- 1. Importer and export by central Government or agencies or undertakings for defence purpose or other specified lists under Foreign Trade (exemption from the application of Rules in certain cases) Order, 1993.
- 2. Import or Export of Goods for personal use.

3. IEC is not mandatory for all traders who are registered under GST. In all such cases, the PAN of the trader shall be construed as new IEC code for the purpose of import and export.

BENEFITS OF IMPORT EXPORT CODE (IEC) REGISTRATION:

1. Expansion of Business:

IEC assists you in taking your services or product to the global market and grow your businesses.

2. Availment of Certain Benefits from DGFT:

The Companies could avail several benefits of their imports/ exports from the DGFT, Export Promotion Council, Customs, etc., on the basis of their IEC registration.

3. No filing of returns:

IEC does not require the filing of any returns. Once allotted, there isn't any requirement to follow any sort of processes for sustaining its validity. Even for export transactions, there isn't any requirement for filing any returns with DGFT.

4. Easy Processing:

It is fairly easy to obtain IEC code from the DGFT within a period of 10 to 15 days after submitting the application. There isn't any need to provide proof of any export or import for getting IEC code.

5. No need for Renewal:

IEC code is effective for the lifetime of an entity and requires no renewal. After it is obtained, it could be used by an entity against all export and import transactions.

DOCUMENTS REQUIRED FOR APPLYING OF IMPORT EXPORT CODE:

Different documents are required by different entities to get IEC code and these are given below:
