LEADERS SPEAK

Whatever we choose to do, from reaching the cutting edge of industry to meeting the most critical social need, we require investment and technology, industry and enterprise. That is why for me, Make in India is not a brand. Nor is it simply a slogan on a smart lion! It is a new national movement. And, it covers the whole spectrum of our government, society and business.

Narendra Modi, Prime Minister of India

There are many lions in Germany and the symbol of lion in Make in India is emblematic of Indo-German partnership.

Angela Merkel, Chancellor of Germany

Modinomics and South Korea's '3.0 economic plan' could together become central drivers for boosting the global economy.

Park Geun-hye, President of South Korea

As India pursues more trade and investment, we want to be first in line. We are ready to join you in building new infrastructure, the roads, the airports, the ports, the bullet trains, to propel India into the future. We are ready to help design more cities which serve citizens better.

Barack Obama, President of the United States of America

As the largest G-20 investor in India, British businesses already support nearly 700,000 jobs in India and India invests more in the UK than in the rest of the EU combined, creating almost 8000 new jobs here last year.

David Cameron, Prime Minister of the United Kingdom

India is a great country to do business in.

John Rice, Vice Chairman, General Electric

Among emerging economies, if there is any growth, that is in India. India is among the few bright spots in the global economy.

Christine Lagarde, Managing Director, International Monetary Fund

If you are betting on a digital economy, bet on India.

John Chambers, Executive Chairman, Cisco Systems

The India-Japan relationship has the greatest potential of any bilateral relationship in the world.

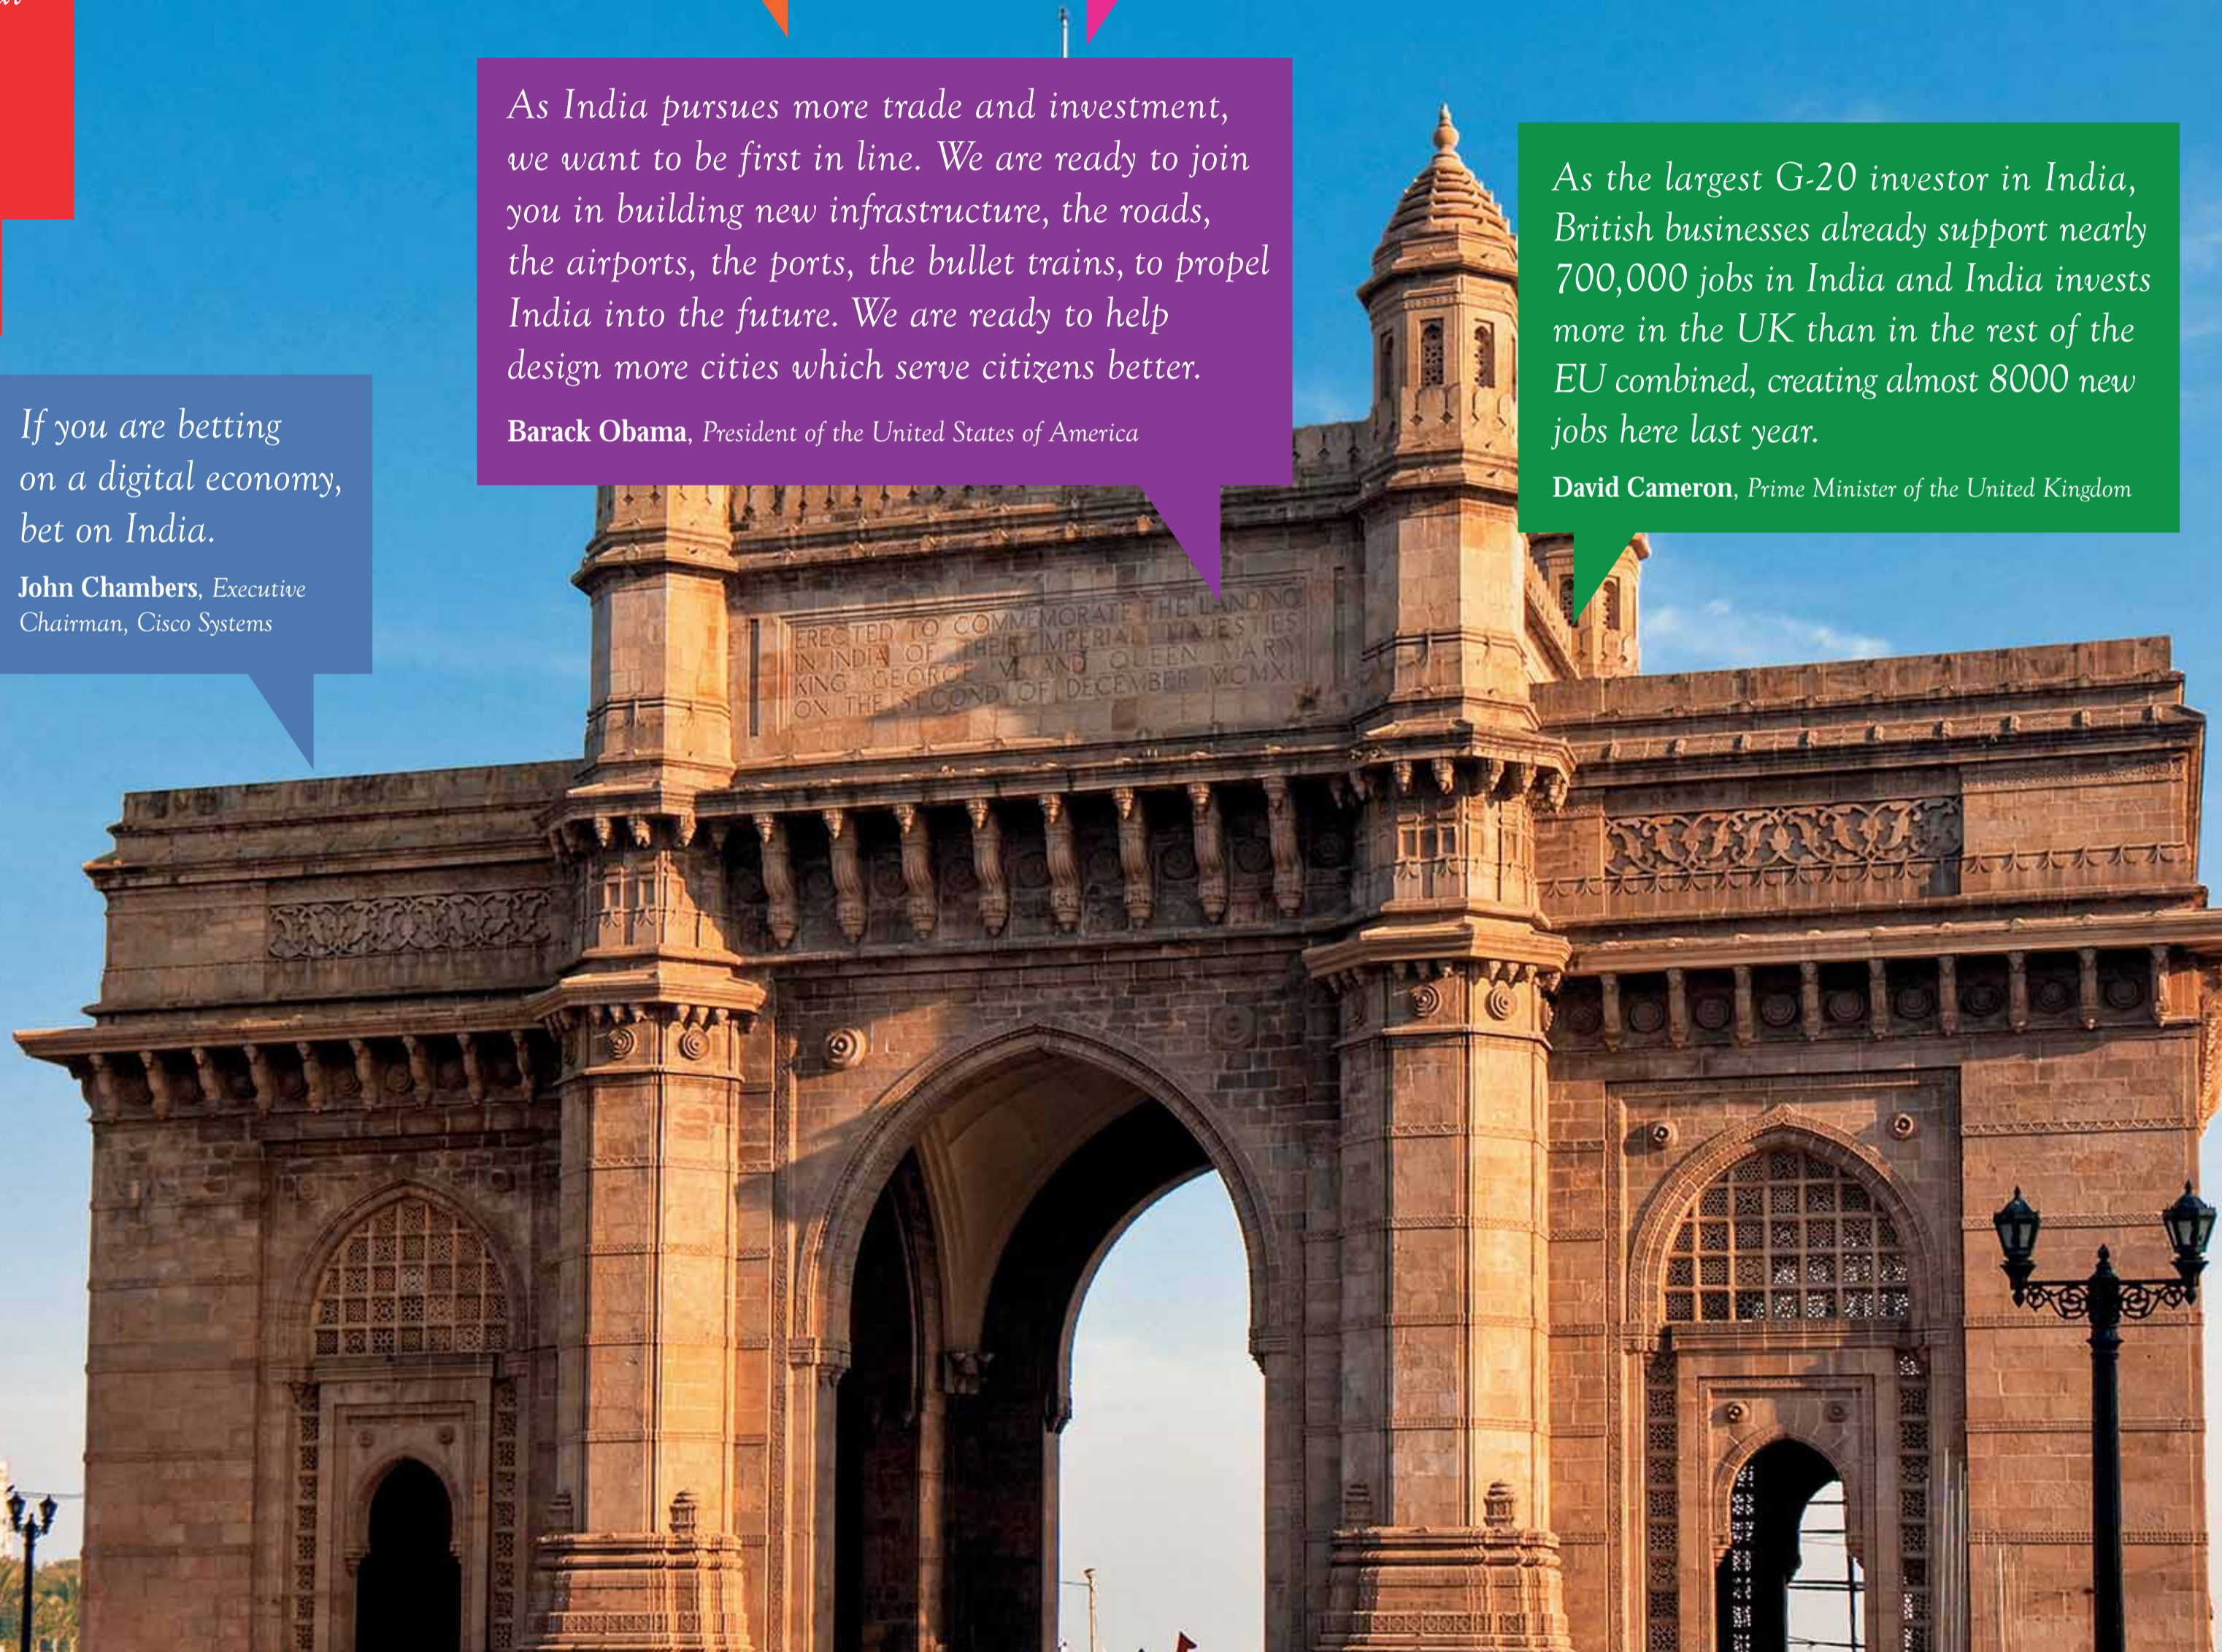

Shinzō Abe, Prime Minister of Japan

Prime Minister Modi and his government are quickly putting in place the building blocks for even more rapid growth, streamlining the national regulatory structure, using public funds more efficiently, and promoting social inclusion. These tax and subsidy reforms and public investments in human capital are essential to generating inclusive and sustainable growth in India over the next century.

Jim Yong Kim, President of World Bank

I see a government that is laying the foundation for the long term and this is exceptionally important because we want growth that is sustainable.

Cyrus Mistry, Chairman, Tata Sons
